

SchoolAI gives teachers back what matters most: time to be present with their students.

Teachers save 7 hours every week

Across five core workflows, SchoolAI consistently frees up time that used to go to planning, paperwork, and preparation. More than 87% of teachers save time in every single category.

"It comes up with creative ideas that would have taken me hours or forever in seconds."

Teachers put that time back into students

Time saved on administrative and planning tasks doesn't disappear. Teachers reinvest it where it matters most. The hours SchoolAI returns aren't going to busywork. They're going back to students.

"I can focus on the specific things that only I can do, and SchoolAI broadens my sphere of influence."

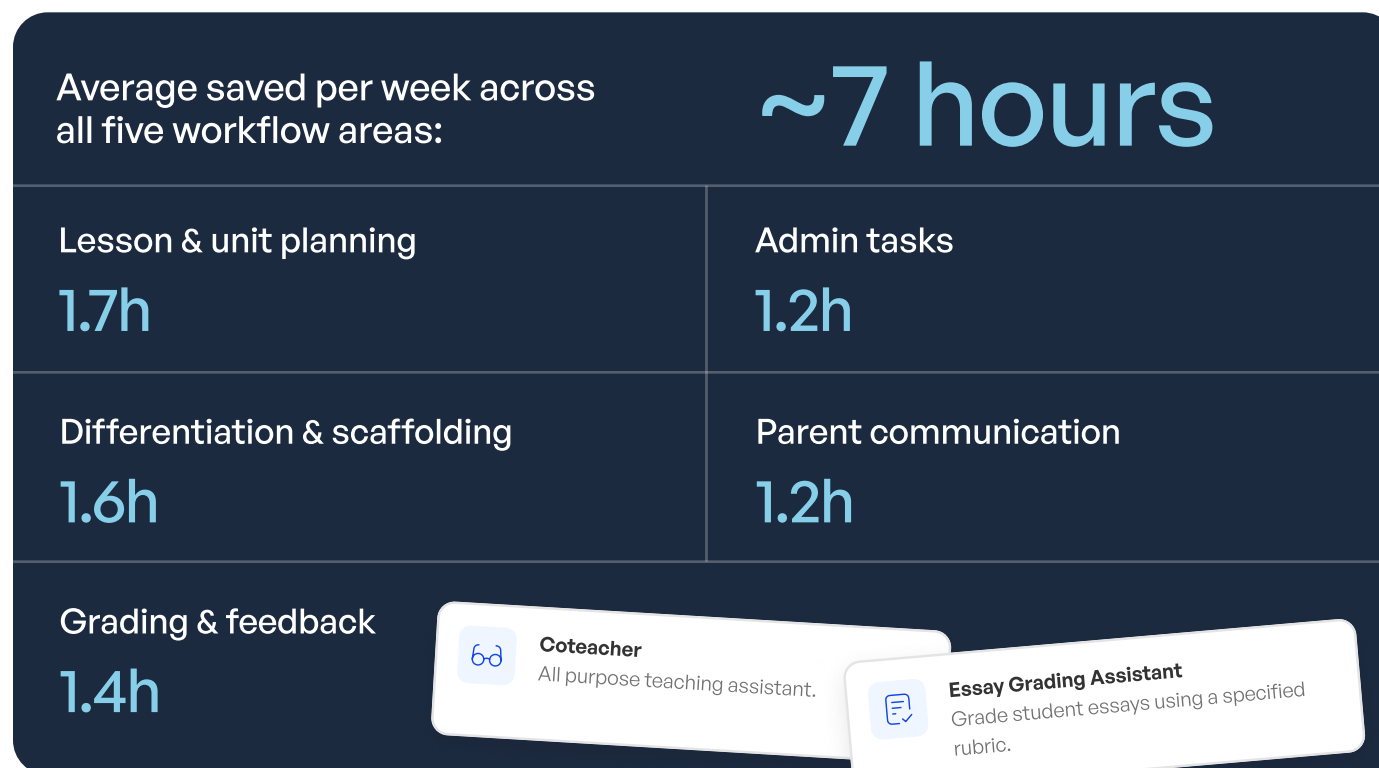

-School Counselor, UT

It's changing how teachers feel about teaching

When teachers have the tools and time to do their best work, it shows up in how they feel about their profession. SchoolAI isn't just reducing workload. It's restoring the joy of teaching.
